

One year. One hundred organizations. One visible difference.

THANKS TO THE MORE THAN 100 ORGANIZATIONS LISTED HERE,
WE IN CHICAGOLAND CAN ALL BREATHE EASIER. LITERALLY.

In the year since Clean Air Counts was launched here, these organizations volunteered to reduce smog by doing such things as retrofitting diesel trucks, running lawn equipment for shorter times and using environment-friendly paints and cleaning products.

Clean Air Counts is sponsored by the Metropolitan Mayors Caucus, representing the six county metropolitan area; the US EPA, Region 5; the City of Chicago; and the Illinois EPA. Special thanks to U.S. Senator Richard Durbin, Mayor Richard M. Daley, the mayors and presidents of the region's 271 suburban cities and villages, and the organizations who financially support Clean Air Counts: The Chicago Community Trust, Gaylord and Dorothy Donnelly Foundation, Grand Victoria Foundation, Illinois Clean Energy Community Foundation, John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation.

Above all, thanks to all who are making a visible difference through voluntary, measurable reductions in air pollution.
